

Kansas City Power & Light Union Retirees turning 65

Your Medicare eligibility date is the first day of the month in which you turn 65 (i.e. if your birthdate is June 15, your Medicare eligible June 1). If your birthdate falls on the first day of the month, your Medicare eligibility date falls back to the first day of the previous month (i.e. if your birthdate is June 1, your Medicare eligibility date would be May 1).

Once you or your spouse are Medicare eligible you will no longer qualify for the pre-65 retiree plan that you were enrolled in at retirement. Unless directed otherwise you will automatically be transferred over to a Medicare supplement plan administered through Cigna. No action on your part is needed.
