» INTRODUCTION

Evergy, Inc. and its affiliates, subsidiaries, and agents – including Wolf Creek Nuclear Operating Company believes a strong relationship with our Suppliers is key to ensuring our company's success. The Supplier Code of Conduct (Supplier Code) was created to communicate our expectations to our Suppliers. The term Suppliers as used throughout this document includes vendors, contractors, and consultants, and any of their employees or subcontractors. We believe integrity and honesty are the foundation of everything we do and just as we expect our employees to follow Evergy's Code of Ethics, we expect our Suppliers to adhere to the expectations set forth in the Supplier Code.

» MESSAGE FROM OUR CHIEF ETHICS OFFICER

Dear Business Partners,

The heart of Evergy is our dedication to our core values of safety, integrity, ownership, and adaptability and our ability to earn and maintain the trust of our employees, customers, regulators, investors, and communities. This means Evergy employees and its Suppliers must behave in a manner that is consistent with these values and conduct business ethically and in compliance with all laws, regulations, and the expectations as outlined in this document.

Because ethical behavior is so critical to our success, we want to ensure our Suppliers are familiar with what is expected of them. In addition to sending periodic communications to Suppliers, we created a Supplier Code. The Supplier Code is aligned with our core values and is in place to help us advance our mission to empower a better future and our vision to provide affordable, reliable and sustainable energy that creates the foundation for thriving and growing communities. To do this we must continue to cultivate a company culture that respects others, allows for a questioning attitude, and strives to do the right thing every time. We have this same expectation for our Suppliers. We want to work with Suppliers who operate and hold themselves accountable to all applicable laws, regulations, and to the ethical values expressed in our Supplier Code.

We believe our Suppliers are a critical and necessary extension of our company and contribute to our long-term success. We appreciate your commitment to making compliance and ethics a top priority as you work with Evergy.

Sincerely,

Kara Larson

As a trusted public service provider, we strive to uphold the highest standards for ethical conduct. This means obeying the law and conducting business ethically and with integrity. We hold our Suppliers to this standard as well. We ask you to speak up when you see unethical or illegal behavior.

Reporting Concerns

We expect and trust our Suppliers to report any actual or suspected acts of misconduct, noncompliance with regulations, or other ethical issues. If, while providing your services and products to Evergy, you see an Evergy employee, Supplier or subcontractor engaged in a known, suspected or potential unethical act or violation of law, Evergy's policies or the Supplier Code, please notify Evergy's ConcernsLine at 866-266-7595. Further, what we cannot legally do directly or indirectly, we will NOT do through another party. Suppliers can ask questions or report a concern by contacting:

- Your Evergy Supply Chain Representative directly;
- Evergy's ConcernsLine at 866-266-7595, available 24/7 for confidential and anonymous reporting administered by an independent third party; or
- Evergy's Chief Ethics Officer, Kara Larson, 816-652-1649.

Evergy prohibits acts of retaliation against any person for reporting a possible compliance concern in good faith. Making a good faith report means you believe the information you provide is true. Evergy expects its Suppliers to protect an individual's right to report misconduct or noncompliance with regulations or other ethical issues.

Conflicts of Interest

Conflicts of interest occur when our personal interests, position or relationships influence us or could be perceived to influence us to make decisions that are not in the best interest of the company. While engaged in Evergy-related work, Suppliers should not accept any employment or engage in any activity that creates a conflict of interest, or the appearance of a conflict of interest, with Evergy or in any way compromises the work that the Supplier is contracted to perform on behalf of Evergy. A conflict of interest can arise if actions are taken or if there are interests that may make it difficult for the Supplier to perform Evergy-related work objectively and effectively.

Gifts and Gratuities

Evergy employees may participate in the accepted practice of giving and receiving occasional and reasonable gifts, meals, services or entertainment to promote goodwill and help build positive business relationships. However, these gifts must be infrequent, customary, legal, and of reasonable value. A Supplier may provide meals or entertainment if they are infrequent and reasonable in value and the Supplier must attend. Gifts of cash and cash equivalents or anything that creates a perceived or actual conflict of interest are strictly prohibited. Evergy employees may never request or accept nor offer or provide a gift or gratuity from or to a Supplier, if the situation could limit us from acting in the best interests of the company.

If the Supplier is in a procurement decision-making process or contract negotiation with Evergy, the Supplier must not offer gifts, meals, services or entertainment, regardless of value, to Evergy employees involved in this process or employees in positions involving direct influence over the Supplier's work for Evergy.

Anticorruption

Evergy has a zero-tolerance policy for corruption and prohibits anyone conducting business on behalf of Evergy, including Suppliers, from offering or making any improper payments of money or anything of value to government officials, political parties, candidates for public office, or other persons. This includes the offer and/or receipt of any bribe or kickback to and/or from any customer, Supplier or others. Suppliers must comply with the anticorruption laws, anti-money laundering laws and applicable sanctions, including sanctioned countries and persons, that govern operations in the countries in which they do business, such as the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the U.K. Bribery Act.

Anti-competitive Practices

We expect our Suppliers to refrain from activities that reduce competition. This includes those prohibiting bribery, kickbacks, corruption and other unethical business practices intended for the purpose of obtaining an improper advantage. Suppliers must comply with antitrust and fair-trade practices laws including the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act.

International Trade Laws

We are committed to following all applicable laws and regulations that govern international trade. We expect our Suppliers to comply with all applicable laws and regulations governing the export, re-export, and transfer of goods, technical data, software, and services, the import of goods and obligations with respect to sourcing materials, economic sanctions and embargoes, U.S. anti-boycott requirements, and not manufacture or subcontract for the manufacture of any products for which conflict minerals are necessary to the functionality or production of that product.
